Destination Information

Consider the following: the earth is home to 8 billion people, making the Dutch population of 17 million seem minuscule by comparison. These 17 million are only 0.22 percent of the world's population, and yet the Netherlands is still the world's seventh-largest exporting country. Dutch higher education enjoys a worldwide reputation for its high quality. A trait you will also notice in the people's mentality; they are outgoing, open-minded, and internationally-oriented. The Netherlands was the first non-English-speaking country to offer courses taught in English. Better yet, most people on the street will have no problems speaking English with you as well.

Rotterdam accommodates more than 650,000 people and no fewer than 174 different nationalities. Around 85 percent of the population speaks English as a second language. Moreover, the city is a center for international interchange of art, culture, sport and science. And with one of the country's most impressive skyline, Rotterdam is often referred to as 'Manhattan on the Maas'. But it is also a gateway to the rest of Europe. All in all, it is a perfect destination for your exchange!

Language Requirements
